DARSC approaches key milestone

The DAR Student Council approached an important monetary milestone Saturday as Treasury funds moved rapidly towards $200. As of Saturday, April 14, the Council Treasury contained $143.

Given the rapid rate of progress in regards to the Council's funds, the Council is expected to hit the key $200 milestone within a matter of weeks. The Council reached the $100 mark in mid-February.

"We're very encouraged by the promising results of last week's count," said DARSC Vice President I. "After all, we just recently resupplied our Council Snack Shop."

Meanwhile, the Council Treasurer implemented new organizational guidelines to ensure adequate documentation of Council Treasury updates. This new organizational effort came after top Council executives - including the Treasurer - voiced their wish for more organization in the Council Treasury.

"Again, I'm very encouraged by these latest developments, especially the organizational attempts. Recall that recent Treasury changes also occurred in March," said the above-quoted DARSC Vice President, in reference to the aforementioned progress in the Council.

DAR adds classes to online homework delivery system

Dar al-Rahman's online homework system - which is available for parents and students at daralrahman.org - saw an expansion recently as Ms. Bushra's and Ms. Amina's class were added to the list.

The news finally completes DAR's expanding online homework delivery system, which now contains all classes at DAR Saturday School. That's right - any student or parent can now visit daralrahman.org to find their homework assignment.

The news comes as an important development in the school's continuing attempt to expand communication between school and home. Other parts of this attempt include the creation of a school Twitter account and school email.
